The Hon. Sharp Williams, who has been out West looking over the situation politically, says "the Democratic chances are improving by jumps." Let the good work go on until Roosevelt thinks it is about time to jump the game.

Democrats who are alarmed over the bets of 2 to 1 offered on Roosevelt in New York and Washington have doubtless forgotten that in 1892, when Cleveland won a signal victory, odds of 3 to 1 were offered on Harrison about thirty days before the election. Later, these odds dropped to 2 to 1.

CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW.

Delightful and Interesting Event to be Given November 3rd and 4th Under Auspices of the Elks.

At a meeting of Wilmington Lodge No. 583, B. P. O. E., they accepted a proposition from Mr. Will Rehder to give a chrysanthemum and flower show for the benefit of the charity fund of the lodge. It was decided to have it at the Elk's Temple November 3rd and 4th, and Mr. Rehder has gone to work to make it a most interesting and delightful affair.

Mr. Rehder states that he is prepared to give the prettiest flower show ever seen in Wilmington, and that while it will be featured with a magnificent display of chrysanthemums, he will also show many floral novelties that will intensely interest lovers of the beautiful.

The Ladies Musical Club have kindly proffered their assistance and will provide a musical programme and serve refreshments during the show.

The parlor floor of the Temple will be converted into a Japanese garden, the chrysanthemum being the national flower of Japan. Here the musical programme will be given and the refreshments will be served by scores of pretty young ladies.

On the ball floor above the exhibition of flowers will be arranged, and Mr. Rehder declares that he is going to make the display of flowers one of rare beauty.

The low price of 10 cents admission is to be charged for admittance to the shows and entertainment, and no doubt the whole of Wilmington will take it in.

LOCAL DOTS.

— Other local, fourth page.

— A coal chute is being built by the Seaboard Air Line at its Wilmington terminal.

— The United States revenue cutter Seminole went down stream yesterday for a cruise on the outside.

— The steamer "Armenia" will sail from Jacksonville this morning for Wilmington, and is expected to arrive Tuesday morning.

— On the third page of the STAR to-day will be found an interesting article upon the cotton crop situation in Texas, by a staff correspondent of the New York Commercial.

— Rev. J. M. Wells, Ph. D, will speak at the Y. M. C. A. men's meeting this afternoon. There will be special music by the Association Male Quartette. All men are welcome.

— Cotton receipts yesterday were 3,681 bales; same day last year, 2,226 bales. The New York spot market was five points off yesterday. Spirits turpentine was steady at 51½c. yesterday.

— The British steamship Huelva was cleared last evening for Bremen with a cargo of 8,105 bales of cotton valued at $430,100. The vessel and cargo were by Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son.

— Mr. C. H. Zebberlin, of Canetuck, Pender county, brought down a raft yesterday containing 169,580 feet of gum logs for Mr. Will L. Miller, American agent for the Acme Tea Chest Co, of Glasgow, Scotland.

— Uneasiness is felt for the safety of the schooner Collins W. Walton, Capt. Magee, bound from Philadelphia for Wilmington, with a cargo of coal for the Cape Fear Fisheries Company. She left Philadelphia Oct. 6th.

TRIAL CONCLUDED.

Conviction of the Two Negroes Charged With Assault and Murder of Mrs. Packer.

TO HANG ON NOVEMBER 16TH.

Great Crowd Present—No Demonstration. Judge Ward Complimented the People Upon Their Conduct in Refraining from Violence.

The trial of the two negroes—Brown and Sellers—charged with the horrible assault and murder of Mrs. George Packer, a young married white woman near her home at Clarkton, N. C., on the 3rd of September last, was concluded yesterday at Elizabethtown, Bladen county, with the conviction and sentence of the prisoners. Judge Ward, presiding, fixed Wednesday, November the 16th as the date of execution, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 2 P. M.

[Special Star Telegram.]

ELIZABETHTOWN, Oct. 15.—When court convened this morning Solicitor Lyon resumed his speech with renewed vigor and made a strong argument. There were only six negroes in the court house and about one hundred and fifty white men. A crowd of about a dozen armed men came into town just before court convened and deposited guns in a store, but were very quiet.

The Solicitor closed at 8:40 A. M., and R. S. White, Esq., assistant counsel, immediately began, and in an hour's speech logically and clearly set forth the reasons why the jury should find the defendants guilty. The prisoners anxiously listened to this speech following so closely on the arraignment of the solicitor. Brown appeared the most interested of the two.

John D. Kerr, of the defence, closed the argument with an impressive speech of one hour, during which the prisoners had something of a relieved look on their faces. Brown faced round to the jury and seemed to study their looks; Sellers sat stolid, looking straight ahead.

The judge, at 11:45, began his charge of law and the evidence, which was full, fair and lucid, and showed his honor learned in the law. The case was given to the jury at one o'clock and court adjourned to 2:30. Before adjournment, about twenty negroes were in the court room and about two hundred whites. The best of order was kept.

The court was called to order promptly at 2:30, and the prisoners were brought in. While waiting for the verdict a case was tried wherein Robert Anders sued for divorce from his wife, Hattie. Robert was as black as the ace of spades. His Honor not observing the color, charged the jury if any were related to plaintiff by blood or marriage to excuse themselves. The judge did not undertake to suppress the laughter.

At 3:05 the jury in the murder case filed out of their room, and the roll was called. R. I. Smith, foreman, rendered a verdict of guilty in the first degree. The judge ordered poll of the jury. W. J. Kelly's name being called, he stood, and on being asked how he found, wanted to make an explanation. His Honor told him to say how he found, guilty or not guilty. He answered that he submitted that he could not find them guilty. The jury was then ordered back to their room. A demonstration was made in rear of the court room and the judge ordered the sheriff to arrest any one who had indulged in it, but the sheriff was unable to ascertain who did it. The prisoners did not appear to change countenance when the verdict was rendered.

At 3:30 the court was adjourned until the jury should come out.

At 3:55 the jury notified the officer that it had agreed. The bell was rung and the crowd rushed in. His Honor came in five minutes later and the jury once more filed in and took their seats. An officer was stationed in rear of the room and ordered to arrest any one making a demonstration. The verdict was guilty in the first degree. Kelly came out firm this time, and each of the others did likewise. The crowd was quiet. The Judge then excused the jury for the term. Sellers was noticed to be nervous, and clasped and unclasped his hands, the first time he had shown any signs of fear or nervousness.

Col. Kerr, representing the accused, stated that he had nothing to say, except that his clients had a fair trial.

The Judge passed sentence impressively, and fixed the date of execution November 16th, between the hours of 10 A. M., and 2 P. M. His Honor complimented the people upon their conduct in refraining from violence in this very shocking crime.

Judge Ward made a fine impression upon the Bar and the people. He presides like an experienced jurist. He has the judicial temperament, and is cool, calm and collected; he does not rush business neither does he let it lag. He keeps order but is not severe.

The jury stood nine for conviction and three for not guilty. Two jurymen quickly yielded, the other one gave trouble. Juror Kelly explained afterward that he did not understand the question and it is likely he did not. Defendants' counsel conceded when the jury took the case that the verdict would be guilty as to both. The town was deserted in thirty minutes after the prisoners were remanded to jail.

Judge's Order.

"The prisoners, Neill Sellers and David Brown, will pass into the custody of the sheriff of Bladen county, and be kept by him in solitary confinement until Wednesday, the 10th day of November, 1904, when they will be taken by the sheriff of Bladen county to the place of execution, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 2 P. M., where they will be hanged by the neck until they are dead, dead, dead. May God have mercy on your souls."

The prisoners had nothing to say.

IN INTEREST OF DEMOCRACY.

Mr. Willis P. Dowd, of New York, Here on Important Mission.

Among those in the city Friday was Mr. Willis P. Dowd, a prominent lawyer and Democrat of New York, who is visiting the prominent cities of North and South Carolina in the interest of the Democratic National Committee for the purpose of urging upon them the importance of help for the doubtful States.

"The co-operation of all Democrats is required," said Mr. Dowd, "to insure a victory for the party this year.

"I consider New York, Colorado and Delaware safe for Parker and Davis and the efforts of the party are now being chiefly directed to Connecticut, Indiana, Nebraska, New Jersey and Montana. In all these States there is a chance for us if we but work together. Every part of the South should help in this work of bringing in the doubtful States."

"I have just come up from Charleston," continued Mr. Dowd, "where I have been on a similar mission. From present indications South Carolina will respond nobly. As matters now stand, funds are necessary with which to carry on effective work, and our sources of supply in the North are practically limited to three States, New York, New Jersey and Colorado. The South should therefore come forward and subscribe liberally towards the campaign expenses in the doubtful States." "It is the first time," continued Mr. Dowd, "that this section has been asked to contribute to such a fund, and yet there is no reason why she should not do so. She has certainly had her share of prosperity in the last few years and she should certainly be willing to do her part where she has so much at stake, for I know of no section that has better reason for opposing Roosevelt and for what Roosevelt stands, than has the South."

"My mission here is to tell you people of our needs and to ask their help. Naturally some will ask how the money is to be used. For legitimate purposes only. In a campaign there are many things to be considered and many uses for funds. Among the heaviest expenses are items for the headquarters, clerk hire, printing, stationery, postage, bands, torches, uniforms for parades and numberless items for educating the voters. The actual field work requires a great amount of money, for men who give their time to campaigning cannot afford also to contribute the money that they must pay out for travel and hotel bills."

"This year New York will need her men and most of her money at home, and therefore we must ask the Southland for substantial aid. And I believe our appeal will not be in vain."

Have You Registered?

It is very important for all qualified voters to be registered for the State and National elections to be held on Tuesday, November 8th. It should be borne in mind that the registration for the dispensary election held in Wilmington last Summer will not do for the election next month. All voters should see that they are properly registered in their proper wards and there should be no delay about it. The registrars will be at the places of registration up to October 29th, on which date the registration books will close. All young men who come of age up to the day of closing and all others who have come here from other parts of the State in the last six months are entitled to register. All citizens who have failed heretofore to register should see that their names are on the books.

Democratic Appointments.

The following new appointments for Democratic speakers are among those announced by the State Committee: Hon. C. M. Stedman, Jamestown, Oct. 17th; Gibsonville, 18th; Brown Summit, 20th; High Point, 21st; Burlington, 22nd. Hon. H. L. Godwin, Democratic elector, Sixth District, Wilmington, Oct. 25th; Red Springs, 31st, at 11 o'clock; Maxton, 31st, at night; St. Paul's, Nov. 1st, at 11 o'clock; Barber's School House, 1st, at night; Kingsdale, 2nd, at night; Ashpole, 3rd, at 11 o'clock; Rowland, 3rd, at night; Clarkton, 5th, at 2 o'clock.

TWO WEEKS OF COURT

Term for Disposition of Both Civil and Criminal Matters Convenes To-morrow.

JUDGE MOORE PRESIDING.

Contempt Case Will be Heard the First Thing After Organization—Jurors Drawn for Service—Civil Matters for the First Week.

New Hanover Superior Court for the trial of both civil and criminal matters, will be convened to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, Judge Fred Moore, of Asheville, presiding, and it will continue for two weeks unless the business of the term is disposed of before the expiration of that time, which is hardly probable. While there are only a few criminal cases, the docket of civil suits is quite heavy and several days will be required for the hearing of one or two of the most important ones. The first three days of the term are set aside for disposing of the criminal docket. The contempt case of P. W. Young will likely come up first thing after the organization of the court and Judge Moore's charge to the grand jury. As a large number of additional affidavits will be presented in that case, it is expected that the hearing will consume several hours.

The jurors drawn for the first week of the term are as follows: T. G. Evans, F. W. Ortman, Jr., J. H. McDougal, John J. Williams, W. H. Temple, Alfred Moffit, W. D. McGrew, R. H. Hewlett, R. S. Haddock, J. W. M. Ahrens, H. L. McKeithan, E. H. Bowdoin, T. F. Tyler, Chas. W. Hill, C. P. Bolles, Jr. Samuel G. Hall, T. N. Cordes, W. G. Forlong, G. J. McMillan, C. W. Manning, I. T. Corbett, Geo. W. Branch, R. R. McCartney, A. F. Davis, S. O. Frink, W. F. Beasley, Sig. mond Bear, John Jones, T. C. Davis, J. V. Grainger, A. B. Tilgen, D. F. Kline, G. P. Willoughby, W. B. Jones F. J. Gooding, and R. W. Corbett.

There are 52 criminal matters on the docket with perhaps a half dozen or more to come in Monday, but half of these are matters of unpaid costs and are not for trial. Solicitor Duffy arrived in the city yesterday afternoon to have the docket all ready upon the convening of court to-morrow morning.

The trial of civil suits will begin Wednesday. There are no important matters for the first week but on Monday of the second week the celebrated Penny damage suit will begin. On Wednesday of the second week the damage suits of Wm. Rembert and Hugh S. Schwartz against the Consolidated Company are set for trial but only one of them will probably be reached at this term. On the following day the Miller damage suit against the same company is set. The calendar for the first week is as follows:

Wednesday, The Roberts Co., vs J. C. Shepard, Jr. T. F. Simmons, vs Pannell Paint Co. F. T. Mills, vs J. W. H. Fuchs. Mary F. Simmons, vs J. M. Bunting. Flynn & Co., vs Eccleston Lumber Co.

Thursday, Timothy Donlan, vs American Bonding Co. City of Wilmington, vs Caroline Artis. E. K. Bryan, vs Chas. O. D. Lee, et al. D. C. Love, Adm'r, vs Elizabeth West, et al. W. J. Hart, vs et al, vs Wilmington Grocery Co.

Saturday, Graham Murray, vs C. T. Harper, et al. A. H. Slocomb C. & V. Co., vs C. C. R. R. Co. R. J. Sykes, vs C. R. L. & P. Co. J. C. Martin, vs J. T. Cowan. Geo. S. Baxter & Co., vs J. H. Harper. John H. Gore, Jr., vs A. J. Walker. Mary Bonham, vs F. G. Punke.

Rummage Sale.

The ladies of the North Carolina Sorosis are making arrangements to hold a rummage sale the last of this month for the public library. A reading room was opened last February and it is hoped before Christmas that it will be possible to acquire enough books for circulation. A rummage sale is fully understood by every one, so all that is necessary is to ask those persons interested to lay aside articles of furniture, clothing, or discarded things of any kind whatever which can be sold to the poor, that they may be collected on a date to be announced later.

Would you borrow money and pay fifty per cent.? If not, buy your furniture at Gaylord's store and get the cash price. †

THE REAL ROOSEVELT.

FROM DARKEST AFRICA.

An Interesting Visitor to Wilmington. Rev. L. C. Vass to be Heard To-day at First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. L. C. Vass, of Raleigh, who has engaged several years in missionary work in the Congo Free State, Africa, arrived in the city last evening, and this morning at 11 o'clock and this evening at 7:30 o'clock will be heard at the First Presbyterian church.

Mr. Vass is no stranger in Wilmington and our people always hear him with interest and profit. He is an interesting talker, and his experience in Africa invests his discourses with more than usual interest. He is a native of Newbern, and is one of the survivors of the steamboat disaster which resulted in the loss of so many lives in the African mission field. The steamer which was lost through an explosion of her boilers was the "Samuel N. Lapsay," which was built in Richmond for the mission work in Congo. The vessel was shipped out to Africa in "knock down" shape and had to be put together after it arrived in Africa Mr. Vass had never had any experience in boat building but he took charge of the work, and with assistance soon had the steamer launched on the river. He also installed the machinery, and ran the boat for some time. She was later blown up while he was on her and 24 lives were lost.

Mr. Vass returned several months ago to the United States to have another steamer built for the work in Africa. It will be considerably larger and better equipped than the other and will cost $35,000. About all the money for the purpose is in hand, having been raised by the children of the Southern Presbyterian church.

In his talks at the two services at the First Presbyterian church he will relate some of his interesting experiences in the Dark Continent.

PROSPECT FOR NAVAL SCHOOL

Proposition to Establish One at Summer Rest Under Patronage of the Government—The City Asked to Aid.

Prof. C. R. Wakefield, principal of the Donaldson-Davidson Academy, of Fayetteville, was in the city yesterday to confer with Mayor W. E. Springer concerning a proposition of importance which he made in a letter to the Mayor some time in March.

For some time Prof. Wakefield has had under contemplation the establishment of a normal school. Through the co-operation of prominent Mississipplans he was about to establish it at Scranton, Miss., but on account of the appearance of yellow fever there a year ago last Summer, it was decided to look for another location for the school. He, therefore, communicated with Mayor Springer and laid before him a proposition to locate the school at Summer Rest, Wrightsville Sound, on the grounds formerly used by the State for the encampment of the State Guard. That property was deeded to the State with the provision that when the State failed to use it as a permanent camp ground, its ownership was to revert to the City of Wilmington. The State failed to use it as such, and the next General Assembly will be asked to pass an act enabling the city to take charge of and dispose of the property to the best advantage.

It is concerning the camp ground at Summer Rest that Professor Wakefield was here yesterday. He proposes that if the city will turn over the camp ground for a site for his proposed naval school he will consider its availibility as the site of his school. He is confident of being able to enlist the co-operation of both Democratic and Republican members of Congress in an appropriation for his school, and it is a part of his plan to have an act passed by Congress making graduates of the school eligible to positions in the United States Navy.

Yesterday the Consolidated Railway kindly placed a special car at the disposal of Mayor Springer, and he and Professor Wakefield, accompanied by Col. Walker Taylor, Maj. W. F. Roberson, and members of the press, ran down to Summer Rest to look over the camp grounds. The party returned to the city yesterday afternoon, and it is understood that Professor Wakefield was much impressed with the grounds as an ideal place for his school. However, he went to Southport yesterday afternoon to look over a site there, and when he gets the matter in proper shape as to where to locate his school he will listen to a proposition from Wilmington as to the encampment grounds.

Wood Sawed and Split by Machinery.

Last Fall John H. Whiteman, the well-known wood dealer, rigged up a portable steam saw and the people of Wilmington found it quite convenient when they had wood to be sawed into proper lengths on their premises. This Fall he has added to his outfit a wood splitter, which is also run by the same engine. Yesterday he gave a successful exhibition with his useful machines at Front and Market streets.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following deeds were recorded yesterday afternoon in the office of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover county: Sallie M. Holmes et al. to Walker Taylor, for $500, property at the southwest corner of Sixth and Bladen. W. T. Howle, of Raleigh, to W. T. Beery, for $1,225, property on west side of Fifth, between Castle and Church.

TO ENGAGE IN A NOBLE WORK.

In the Charlotte News, of Thursday, the Rev. Dr. McKelway takes his leave in an elegant valedictory as editor of that staunch and clean North Carolina daily. He slips off the editorial harness with some evident heart-wrenchings, but we are he still hus a string tied to the News sanctum, as he announces that from time to time he will still write something for the columns which his writings have adorned for more than a year. We are sure that the members of the press, and the readers of the News especially, will congraulate themselves that in that statement it is made known that Dr. McKelway will not entirely cut out his editorial work.

Dr. McKelway is not only a writer of ability and force, but his work in the columns of the News demonstrates that he is a close student of public questions. Along with it all there is one refreshing consideration, and that is that combined with good English and thoughtful work there has always been the distinguishing and guiding quality of honest conviction. There is no wonder, therefore, that the editorial columns of our esteemed Charlotte contemporary have been invested with a tone that all readers must admire and draw benefit from. Dr. McKelway has been an honor to the journalistic profession of North Carolina, and his retirement to another field will be a genuine loss to that which he leaves.

Dr. McKelway quits journalism to become Southern Secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, which has its headquarters in New York. He will, however, have his office in Charlotte, and our State will be all the better for that. The field to which he goes is one ripe for noble work, and for it he is well qualified by lofty humane sentiment, deep earnestness, and the philosophic quality of an investigato of truth and right. He has already written much along the line of work to which he has been specifically called and we know that he will add strength to that noble cause.

THE NATIONAL SCANDAL.

The New York Times considers the Cortelyou chairmanship scandal as a very serious matter. So it is. The Times is doing yeoman service in arousing the conscience of the American people, and we hope that public sentiment has not been so debauched by the corruption fund of the Republican party but that this unblushing incident in American politics will be rebuked. No party, Republican or Democratic, which would stand for the Cortelyou method of fat frying should have the ghost of a show before an intelligent, patriotic and honest public opinion.

Testimony of a Minister.

Rev. Jno. S. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes: "For twelve years I suffered from yellow jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Then I began the use of Electric Bitters, and feel that I am now cured of a disease that had me in its grasp for twelve years." If you want a reliable medicine for Liver and Kidney trouble, stomach disorder or general debility, get Electric Bitters. It is guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Only 50c. †

A SNAKE-LIKE HISS.

A whole lot of people who imagine that they are for peace have been attending that peace convention the past week at Cooper Union, New York. In many particulars the peace advocates were not harmonious themselves. The numerous clashes in that convention show after all that men cannot always agree even if they have the same end in view. We judge from quite a lot of incidents that occurred during the convention, that what man need most in order to advance the cause of peace is liberality and tolerance. For a well meaning man to be hissed vigorously in a peace gathering was decidedly out of place. That, however, is what happened to Mr. "Pete" Curran, of England, who represented the General Federation of Trades Unions. He attempted to explain to the gathering some of the trials brought upon the working man by the Boer war, and in doing so he said: "And what Great Britain did in South Africa, you are now doing in the Philippines."

He could not proceed for a storm of hisses that contined two or three minutes, till Chairman Smith finally brought about order. Curren was combative enough to hold his ground and declared that he was going to say what he thought whether the audience liked it or not. We mention this to show that men will differ, and that peace is a long ways off when its advocates are as liable to fly off the handle as other folks. When peace advocates meet they ought ts set the world an example by their own tolerance. That is the reason the world hasn't got peace, and is not liable to have.

A man out in Texas wants to raffle himself off at $1 a chance. He proposes to sell 2,500 chances, himself and the $2,500 so raised to go to the lady holding the lucky ticket. We know North Carolinians who would give themselves away without running any risk of getting taken in by any old thing that might get the lucky ticket.

Eggs are still too high to cause any uneasiness to Republican spellbinders in North Carolina.

CURRENT COMMENT.

——Only a few weeks now until that question of veracity between Cortelyou and Taggart will be settled.—Washington Post.

——Tim Woodruff says he believes the New York Republicans will be surprised at the Roosevelt vote in that State. Yes, and possibly pained.—Washington Post.

——But isn't Watson a boomerang, who will drive a half dozen conservative Republicans to the safe and sane Democratic candidate where he will win one from him?—Troy Press (Dem.).

—— Tom Watson owns over one-third of the county in which he lives in Georgia, and was so poor as a boy that he couldn't go to college. This is an example that others besides Populists would like to imitate.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

—— Odell says that Roosevelt's plurality in New York will be from 50,000 to 75,000. Murphy says the State will go 75,000 for Parker. Well, it's a difference of opinion that makes campaigns interesting. —Indianapolis News.

—— Recently there was a sale of lands at Jackson, the county seat of Northampton county, N. C., and the local paper says that very good prices were received. One farm of 370 acres sold for $6,000, or over $16 per acre, while another of 170 acres sold for $4,110, or over $24 an acre. These two farms were assessed for taxation at only $6 an acre, or less than one-third what they sold for. All lands in the South have been held at ridiculously low prices, as there was little demand for them. But now that the South is growing so rich and prosperous, there is a double reason why her lands should greatly enhance in value.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

THE MARRIAGE QUESTION.

The professor who announced that "love and romance die out with the sound of the wedding-bells," was the first to start the ball rolling. It would seem a brave woman who marries with this echo in her ears, yet we have not heard that there were fewer marriages during the year. There are unhappy married lives, but a large precentage of these unhappy homes are due to the illness of the wife, mother or daughter.

During a long period of practice, Doctor Pierce found that a prescription made up entirely of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, cured ninety-eight per cent. of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in a form that can be had at any store where medicines are handled.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness and other consequences of womanly disease. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— The Whiteville News pays a high tribute to Mr. Divine Meares, agent of the Seaboard Air Line, who died at Fair Bluff on Sunday. He was young, popular, promising, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Meares.

— Plans are on foot for the forming of a corporation to manufacture guano in Rocky Mount, proposed capital stock being $25,000. It is practically an assured institution, but the organization has not been effected in all its details.

— The Belle View Manufacturing Company was incorporated Friday at Raleigh for the purpose of operating a cotton, woolen and silk yarns and hosiery mill at Hillsboro. The capital authorized is $125,000 and the amount subscribed is $35,000, the principal incorporators being S. S. Studwick, S. M. Gattis, H. W. Webb, P. C. Collins, E. A. Hughes and T. N. Webb.

— The postoffice of store of R. S. Crews, of Dennis, on the Norfolk and Western Railway, were broken into Thusday night. On Friday morning officers arrested four negroes—Joe Martin, Henry, Jim and John Hairston. Some of the stolen property was found in their possession. Mr. Crews identified two shirts and a silver watch belonging to Mr. Crews, who is also postmaster.

— Wadesboro Messenger: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Baldwin and Mr. N. D. Stutts, of Maugum, Richmond county, who were bitten by a mad dog recently, and who have been taking the Pasteur treatment at Richmond, are expected to return home Saturday. They have been getting on very well and it is thought all danger of their suffering and bad results from the bites will be over by that time.

— The severity of the drought around Asheville and the mountain section of the State is causing the officials of the Asheville division of the Southern Railway some concern, especially as regards the Murphy branch. It is said that if the drought continues much longer a number of streams that supply the company's water tanks will fail and that the railroad will be put to considerable inconvenience.

— Harvey Atwell, aged 21, of Salisbury, who was in the employment of the Southern Railroad Company at Spencer, was killed Friday afternoon by falling from a ladder in the interior of the main shop building. The other men who were on the ladder were also injured in the fall. Young Atwell fell on a truck, breaking his back and both shoulders, and also sustained internal injuries as well as concussion of the brain. He never regained consciousness after the accident, but lived in awful agony for one hour.

In the superior court at Winston Srlem on Friday Frank Snow, colored, pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree for shooting and killing his at Rural Hall a few weeks ago. There was evidence which showed that Snow was week, both physically and mentally. This saved him from conviction of murder in the first degree. He was given thirty years in the state prison. Willis Shouse, also colored, charged with aiding and abetting in the murder, also submitted to a verdict of murder in the second degree. He was given two years in the penitentiary.

— On Friday night at High Point, the extensive manufacturing plant of the High Point Metallic Bed Company was destroyed by fire, together with a large quantity of manufactured goods. The loss is large, the insurance carried being $40,000. The fire originated in the oven, which is used to melt the enamel on the iron beds and cribs which is the output of the factory. The Smith Furniture Company, in close proximity to the bed company, lost a large amount of lumber by the fire. The whistles of the sixty odd factories caused pandemonium among the populace and notwithstanding the distance fully two thousand people witnessed the fire.

— A dispatch from Goldsboro on Friday says: The revenue officers have had their eyes upon a distillery which has been operating in the Mt. Olive section for some time. Mr Grimsley, the local officer in charge of the business, attempted a raid about two weeks ago. The people who were operating the distillery were too smart for him and moved before he got on the premises. Messrs. Poole and Downing, of the Greensboro force were called into requisition, and night before last they captured two plants. There was no stock on hand. It was found that the proprietors had been distilling rum from molasses. The kettles were demolished and the plant destroyed. The officers could not find out to whom the plant belonged.

— The Kaiser—And is your Gen. Hitthepikoski abreast of his times? The Czar—Quite so. He's not only abreast of his times, but so far he's manage to keep slightly in the lead of the Japs, thank God!

— "I think," declared the little daughter of the widow to the millionaire who was calling, "that you are a charming and delightful man." "How nice. What makes you say so?" "Mamma told me to."—Detroit Free Press.

IMPACTED EAR WAX.

Where It Comes From and How It Should Be Treated.

The normal secretion of the orifice of the ear is the product of glands situated in the outer half of the canal only. This secretion—the cerumen, or ear wax—is slowly poured from the gland ducts as a thin, yellowish liquid. As it quickly loses a large amount of its watery elements by evaporation and becomes admixed with dust it forms a thin layer, waxlike in color and consistency, which normally covers only the outer portion of the canal, that in which the glands are located.

This layer of material probably has its chief function, in common with the few small hairs in the same location, in protecting the vibratory membrane —the drum—from the contact of dust.

It is interesting to observe that the exit of this layer of wax is accomplished by nature chiefly with the aid of the motion communicated to the ear canal by the movement of the jaw in chewing and talking, a motion readily felt by touching the orifice with the finger tip during these processes. The constant increase of the secretion is therefore provided with a corresponding loss, which takes place almost as imperceptibly as the constant loss of the superficial layer of the skin from the surface of the body.

This explanation serves to make clear why the use of ear spoons, pins or hairpins is unnecessary. The use of such objects is not only superfluous, but it is often the cause of the very condition which those who use them would prevent.

Even too vigorous washing with a twisted cloth or sponge, for example, may result in pushing the wax back into the canal until a mass sufficient to block the entire opening is accumulated.

The first intimation of the presence of impacted wax is often the sudden occurrence of a considerable degree of deafness. This is most likely to happen on a damp day or just after or during a bath. A slight amount of moisture causes the mass to swell so that the narrow chink previously existing between the mass and the canal is closed. If it is not now removed, the mass may shrink and the hearing power be temporarily restored, only to be lost again when conditions arise causing an increase in the size of the mass.

Firm, gentle syringing with warm water from a piston ear syringe is usually regarded as the safest and best method of removing the mass, the handling of which had better be intrusted to a physician or trained nurse, if possible.—Youth's Companion.

Aptly Described.

"I have been courting her for two years," said the disconsolate one, "and I am certain that she will refuse me when I propose."

"Ah, that is interesting," said the amateur photographer, "a sort of undeveloped negative."—Pittsburg Press.

He Dropped In.

"You don't object to a contributor dropping into poetry once in awhile, I presume?" said the visitor, with an affable smile.

"Certainly not, sir. Sit down," replied the editor, pushing the waste paper basket toward him.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The cotton market opened easy at a decline of three to six points, following lower Liverpool cables and continued favorable weather over the belt as a whole, though one or two points in North Carolina reported moderate frosts. Private advices from New Orleans reported further easiness in the spot situation. Prices, however, were sustained by the end week covering of these already short, and following the call the market showed a pretty steady tone and considerable resistance to pressure with prices sagging off a little at first, but later reacting to about last night's finals.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Confirmation that Duluth millers are importing Manitoba wheat was perhaps the chief factor in a strong wheat market here to-day. At the close December wheat was up ¾c. May was up ¾c. Corn is off ¼c. Oats are down ½c. Provisions show a gain of 7½ to 12½c.

Must Believe It.

When Well-known Wilmington People Tell It So Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Wilmington the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

B. R. King, the well-known policeman, residing at 706 Wooster street, says: "I had terrible pain in my back worked around to my side and in my stomach, so bad at times that it laid me up. I used internal medicines and they did not help me. I put on plasters and rubbed with liniment, and none of them helped me at all. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended I got a box of them at Bellamy's drug store. The next day after commencing to use them I noticed relief. Since using two boxes of them I have not had an ache or a pain in my back It is with pleasure that I add my name to those endorsing the claims made for this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

WINTER'S APPROACH

A day of sunshine now and then, but these frosty mornings admonish us that sable Winter is almost here. That suggests the comforts and satisfaction of one of our modern heaters. We have them this year of every shape and kind—just the one to suit. Or, perhaps, it's a cooking stove or range. We have those too, And the point we are making for them all is that they furnish an even maximum of heat with the greatest economy of fuel.

We are yours just now for stoves and ranges, but all the time for hardware and agricultural implements. Let us serve you.

Watch Your KIDNEYS!

The Slightest Derangement of these important organs should be Promptly heeded, for no Disease is more dangerous.

Deadly diabetes, gravel or stone in the bladder, uremic poisoning, and other fatal forms of Kidney Diseases always begin in a mild form. There is little harm at first, and with proper treatment all irregularities can be corrected, but the slight symptoms are often overlooked and before the victim can realize it, a fully developed and dangerous stage is reached.

A thoroughly reliable and time-tested remedy for all diseases of the Bladder and Kidneys is

STUART'S GIN AND BUCHU.

For thirty years this remedy has been in general use, and has mhae some noteworthy cures of cases that had reached a dangerous stage. It promptly reaches the cause of the disease, dissolving and expelling from the system all poisonous matter, and restores the bladder and kidneys to their normal healthy condition.

YOU CAN TEST IT FREE.

Stuart's Gin and Buchu can be obtained at all drug stores, but if you desire to test the remedy, send us your name and address and a trial sample will be sent you absolutely free. Do not delay or neglect this warning which nature is giving in the form of pains in the back, dizziness, irregularities in the urine, etc., but write for a sample to-day. WE ARE A WORLD POWER.

Our Position Among Nations Established Before the Birth of Roosevelt.

The assurance with which you, Mr. President, born in 1858, assume to have discovered the United States and its policies is even more astounding than the policies themselves. You tell us that the Monroe doctrine will be an object of derision unless we have a mighty navy. The Monroe doctrine was thirty-five years old when you were born, and doing remarkably well, as it has been ever since. You tell us that without a still newer, still bigger first-class navy we must definitely make up our minds to accept a secondary position, not only in political but in commercial matters. When you cut your first tooth we had the greatest merchant marine in the world—greater even than England's—and our navy was insignificant. Our mercantile shipping on blue water has steadily declined under the restrictive policies you favor, and it is smaller now than it was when the first keel of the new navy was laid.

You tell us that under your leadership we have just become a "world power." What were we—pardon the personal illustration—more than a generation before you were born, when, with only ten million people and insignificant armaments, we flung the Monroe doctrine into the teeth of the Holy Alliance?

Considering your intelligence and your knowledge of American history, your attitude seems a mystery. What can be its explanation?

What can be the purpose of all these shrieks for a mighty army and navy, these frenzied denunciations of "cowards," "weaklings" and "cravens," who sordidly mind their own business instead of flying to arms, with no discernible provocation; these frantic wavings of the mailed fist in the faces of the nations? The spectacle is extraordinary and bewildering. The country is in no danger from any power of Europe. All the nations of the Old World are watching each other, afraid of each other, and infinitely more in dread of us, the terrfying "American Peril," than we could possibly be of them. Not one of them would dream of adding a war with us to its other dangers, if we gave it a chance to escape. If we could stand against England without great armaments ninety years ago, when we had only eight million people, what have we to fear now with eighty millions and eight hundred times the resources and power for war? [From the New York World.]

TRUSTS AND PRICES.

The campaign bookmakers labored long and hard and demonstrated to a finish—if you accept their figures as gospel truth—that there are no real trusts, that trusts have not put prices up, and that, in fact, prices have not gone up. They show, for example, what a weak, punny, little harmless afair our billion-dollar steel trust is—producing but little more than one-half of our steel output. They say that "it is obvious that a company producing only one-half of any given article entering a given markets could not maintain excessively high prices." The misrepresentation in these statements lies in the fact that as to many of the finished products of steel the trust has an almost absolute monopoly and can and does charge exorbitant prices, as is demonstrated by its export prices of these same goods. In tin plates, barbed wire, wire nails, and many other articles, the trust has a virtual monopoly of our markets and charges us from 30 to 100 per cent. more than it charges foreigners for these goods.

In nearly all other of its products, such as steel rails, billet plates, structural work, etc., in which it produces only half of the country's output, it has "gentlemen's agreements" with other manufacturers which enable it, as well as other manufacturers, to get the full benefit of the high tariff duties on these goods. In this way it gets $28 a ton for steel rails sold in this country, while selling them abroad for $18 and $20. It gets $32 for plates here which it sells in England at $18.

It is a pity that these little corrections could not have been obtained in time for insertion in their campaign book; for, surely, the Republicans would not knowingly and wilfully mislead the dear people.

West Virginia "is all right for Roosevelt," says State Senator Robinson, one of the minor leaders of the G. O. P. in that State. "Only a few counties remain to be whipped into line." The whipping into line of counties, and factions, and individuals is keeping the Republican bosses very busy these days. This is the case in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware, Wisconsin, Michigan, Colorado and several other States. Despite their braggadocio, the Republican bosses in each of the States above named are worried over the outlook and would give a good deal to be assured of victory.

— Lowe Comerdy—Alas! it's true that Barnstorm has gone plumb nutty. The last part he had was too much for him. Hi Tragerdy—Too emotional, eh? Low Comerdy—Too ironically aggravating, I guess. He was playing Monte Cristo at $12 per week and not even getting the twelve.—Philadelphia Press.

Saves Two from Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y.; "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and to-day she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for Coughs and Colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Trial bottles free.

Dr. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK WOMEN.

THE COOKBOOK.

In making any sauce put the flour and butter in together, and your sauce will not be lumpy.

A heavy salad is always out of place in an elaborate dinner. Mayonnaise is permissible, but French dressing is better.

If corned beef is very red, which means it is very salt, put it to cook in cold water. This draws out a portion of the salt.

When croquette mixtures are too wet to mold and shape, put in more chopped meat or fish or in a desperate case finely pounded breadcrumbs.

In making custard for lemon pies it is better to partly bake the crust before adding the mixture so that it may not be absorbed by the paste.

Gingerbread is improved by adding to it, when mixing, a cupful of chopped prunes. Use the juice of the prunes instead of water and mix the dough a little stiffer.

Fried breakfast bacon is much improved if cooked in some of the bacon fat saved from the previous day. There should be just enough for the bacon to float in, and it must be hot before the rashers are added. Cook three minutes.

"Stonewall" Jackson's Baptism.

Robert E. Lee and Thomas Jonathan ("Stonewall") Jackson were once stationed at Fort Hamilton, New York harbor, the former while it was being built. Jackson was baptized at old St. John's church at Fort Hamilton, and the records contain the following entry: "On Sunday, 29th of April, 1849, I baptized Thomas Jonathan Jackson, major in the United States army; sponsors, Colonels Taylor and Dimmick, also of the army." The baptismal font used for this ceremony is still preserved.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

No Excuse.

A member of a volunteer fire brigade did not appear on the scene of the conflagration until after the fire was under control. He was severely taken to account by the chief for thus neglecting his duty.

"I could not help it," replied the fireman. "I live a long way from the fire."

"That's no excuse," snapped the chief. "You must move nearer the next fire."—London Answers.

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff! She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 16.

THE CAMPAIGN IN WEST VIRGINIA.

D. B. Hill Discussed the Race Question. The Negro Vote—His Last Speech in West Virginia.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Oct. 15.—No more force bills. No more Federal election laws for the control of State elections.

This was the conclusion reached by David B. Hill after discussing the race question as a political issue here to-night. Mr. Hill has not discussed this question previously during the campaign he is making with Henry G. Davis, vice presidential candidate. Leading to this conclusion he declared the Republican platform injected the question into the campaign not directly, but indirectly, not openly and manfully, but covertly and cowardly.

The congressional investigation invoked, he said, looks like a threat intended for intimidation purposes. Continuing, he said, the proposal espoused in the platform might be viewed with more complacency and less seriousness had not the attitude of the present occupant of the White House, ever since his incumbency thereof, been that of ill-concealed hostility to those whose notions of social equality differed so radically from his own. It is a fact, demonstrated by an examination of the last census in connection with the election returns in ordinary years, that the Democrats have actually had a majority of the white vote of a sufficient number of the Eastern, Middle and Western States to enable them to control the presidency, the negro vote from those States being excluded from the computation, and the Southern electoral vote remaining as at present, and that the Republicans have only been enabled to win the national elections through the colored Republican vote. This fact speaks for itself. The figures thus indicate that this is still a white man's government and must necessarily largely remain so.

This was Mr. Hill's last speech in the Davis itinerary. The speakers to-night were besides Mr. Davis: Messrs. Hill, Daniel, White and W. C. Daley.

The meetings to-day at Millwood, Mason City and Point Pleasant were largely attended, especially at the latter place where the time was extended to two hours.

MILLWOOD, W. VA., Oct. 15—Candidate Davis had a narrow escape from the kisses of fifty young ladies dressed in white at Ripley. He was greeted by a large crowd on his arrival, a feature of the reception was that extended by the Henry G. Davis Women's Club of that place, the only club of the sort in existence. The ladies represented the forty-five States and four territories and were arranged on a decorated float.

"This is the prettiest sight I have been greeted with," declared Mr. Davis. "I want to thank you all. I want to shake your hands. I was going to say that I would like to kiss every one of you. You can shudder, young ladies," but when the handshaking part of the programme arrived Mr. Davis was shyly rebuked for not carrying out his desires.

MORE MARINE DISASTERS.

Several Vessels Wrecked and Lives Lost in the Gale Raging Along the Massachusetts Coast.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—The fierce northerly gale which has swept the Massachusetts coast for two days and which resulted Friday morning in the loss of twelve lives by the destruction of the schooner Wentworth off Chatham, early to-day caused the wrecking of another schooner, with the drowning of four men. Three other vessels were driven ashore, but the crews escaped. The three-masted schooner Elwood Burton, bound from St. John, N. B., for New York, while trying to make the harbor at Provincetown, struck Peaked Hill bar and was ground to pieces. Captain Williams and three of the crew were lost, while the mate and two men were rescued by life savers. The three-masted schooner Annie M. Allen, bound from Hillsboro, N. B., for Newark, N. J., in running for Gloucester harbor went ashore between Norman's Woe reef and Magnolia Point and probably will be a total loss. Her captain and crew of six men reached shore safely without assistance. An unknown schooner also was driven ashore off Chatham, on Common Flat, and life savers have gone to her assistance.

CAMPAIGN IN NEW YORK.

Mr. Murphy Promises Phenomenal Majority for the National Ticket.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Chairman Taggart and August Belmont, of the Democratic national executive committee, called on Charles F. Murphy at Tammany Hall to-day. Mr. Murphy assured Messrs. Taggart and Belmont that New York city would give the national ticket a phenomenal majority. He also assured them that everything was moving favorably in the city. There was some discussion about the number of challenges which have been made through the activity of State Superintendent of Elections Morgan. The Tammany leader told Chairman Taggart that there was something mysterious about the methods of Republican workers regarding the registrations, which the Tammany leader did not profess to understand.

PARKER ADDRESSES TWO DELEGATIONS.

The Policy of Republican Party in Relation to Philippine Islands Discussed.

SECOND SPEECH OF CAMPAIGN

Severe Arraignment of President Roosevelt and Party for Their Treatment of the Filipinos—The Waste of Money and Loss of Lives

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ESOPUS, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Judge Parker to day addressed two visiting delegations on the political issues making his second campaign speech since accepting the Democratic nomination for the presidency. The delegation numbered about 120 men, a score representing the Parker Independent Club, the others the Avon Beach Regular Democratic Club of Long Island.

The delegation arrived at 3:15 o'clock on a regular train over the West Shore railroad from New York and forming a procession marched to Rosemount.

When Judge Parker stepped from the house he was greeted with handclapping. Colonel Charles L. Codman of Boston, and Professor Henry W. Hardon of New York, made extended speeches. Both speakers confined their remarks to the Philippine Islands question.

Judge Parker said in part:

"I have before said that we may not disregard the responsibility imposed by possession of the Philippines, and that responsibility will be best subserved by preparing the islanders as rapidly as possible for self-government and giving to them the assurance that it will come as soon as they are reasonably prepared for it. This means independence for the Filipinos in the full sense of the word. When prepared they may govern themselves as the Cubans do, unassisted, unless asking help, undirected, unless asking advice, untrammelled by our policies, unencumbered by our politicians and uncontrolled by us.

"Secretary Taft has said: 'A promise to give ultimate independence will be construed by the more violent element, disposed to agitation, to be a promise to grant independence in the near future and during the present generation. The success of the experiment we are making in the Philippines depends on having the Filipinos understand that we are there for their benefit, but that we expect to stay there indefinitely in working out the good we propose to do them. Here we have the issue clearly defined.' The Republican party stands for the subjugation of defenceless foreign people. Democracy stands for freedom. We relieved Spain of this thorn in her flesh, the Philippines, to plunge it into our own. We paid, and are paying, enormously for the privilege of performing the operation. Spain had been trying to conquer the islands since the early decades of the sixteenth century. She had never quite succeeded. That is not surprising. Every true American would despise a man who would not fight to the last gasp for the land of his fireside and the birthplace of his babes. When the battleships of our great republic destroyed the Spanish war vessels, the Filipinos hoped the freedom for which they had struggled so long was finally approaching. Our history seemed to guarantee that our ambition would be to see them free, happy and prosperous.

We perpetually point with pride to our love of liberty. The Republican platform asserts that, fifty years ago, the Republican party came into existence indicating every purpose to the great task of arresting the extension of human slavery. The arresting the extension of human slavery—that sounds well. But it speaks of the virtue of another generation. All the leaders of the Republican party of that day have passed away. In their place have come very different men. We need not point out that which principally differentiates them. It readily suggests itself. But we will refer to one of the results of that difference.

"After our utter defeat of the Spaniards the Republican administration paid to the vanquished oppressor of the conquered Filipinos $20,000,000 for this uncertain option on this victim's land, the tenements and hereditaments. In the attempt to bolster the opinion we have wasted over $650,000,000 more of the people's money and sacrificed 200,000 lives, and the waste of money and the sacrifice of lives are not yet ended if the policy of the administration is to be continued indefinitely. That policy refuses to promise independence for the islanders now, or at any time, or upon any condition. It does not even leave open the door of hope.

The administration rails at the Democratic proposal to promise them independence as soon as they are prepared for it. Indeed, it suggests to eighty millions of intelligent people that such promises would stimulate the 'vicious' to be more vicious, instead of encouraging the improvement which would secure them what they most desire on earth—freedom. But is not the proposition. It argues itself. If our people agree that the administration is wrong in threatening by its silence that which it undoubtedly intends, namely, perpetual bondage for the Filipinos, the remedy is in their hands. We could have donated to Spain a number of millions and annexed Cuba with equal justice and less suspicion of imbecility than we displayed in acquiring the Philippines. But we have done our duty to Cuba. We have left her to work out her own salvation—to take her place in the march of civilized nations. Shall we forbid the Filipinos to hope for independence? Shall we prevent their building up their own civilization, and try to force ours upon them? Civilization is a growth, not a disguise.

"Our duty to the Filipinos demands a promise of independence. But if it did not, our own interests demands that we be relieved of the Filipinos just as soon as they are responsibly prepared for self government. A colony holding nation is ever subject to expensive wars with other nations and with its colonies. This necessitates strong garrisons and powerful navies and draws heavily upon the treasury. And history records no instance of a nation receiving from her colonies anything like an adequate return for the blood and treasure spent. England's national debt was doubled by the revolt of the thirteen colonies it had cost her so much to secure.

"The American expansionists allege that annexation of the Philippines must promote progress, foster commerce and industry and introduce the leaven of civilization into a backward and inferior race. The evidence of history is to the contrary. Certainly the claim will not be made that we can ever get back the money that has been taken from the pockets of our taxpayers and wasted on the Philippines. And it is alike certain that but two classes of our people can hope to be benefitted by our holding the Philippines, the class which is always hunting for special government privileges, and the class which seeks to make of office-holding a means of livelihood. The latter class in the Philippines comprise some officials of whom a student of conditions there recently said: 'Of the character of many in office too little cannot be said. At the best they have been inefficient, at the worst dishonest, corrupt and despotic. The islands seem to have succeeded in getting the very dregs of our people.'

"He also said: 'The situation in the Philippines to-day is so terrible that it passes the comprehension of people at home.'

"I ask of the Republican party whether, if the administration of the United States should be continued in its hands if it proposes to undertake to apply any remedy. Will it enact for the Philippines proper statutes regulating their affairs with some view to their interest? Will it give their perishing shipping relief? Will it give them tariff regulations under which they can exist?

"We hold the Philippine Islands. Have we taken proper steps to fulfill the obligations therein assumed? Are the Philippine Islands to day a self-supporting community? Are their efforts toward acquiring such position embarrassed at every turn by the legislation we have forced upon them? Had we left them to their own devices they might have dealt with foreign nations. Had we brought them within the United States of America they might have dealt with us. To-day they can do neither.

"Where are the Philippine markets? Where the development of the natural resources?

"Why should not those islands, asserted by all and conceded by all, to have great natural resources be self-supporting? I warn the Republican party that it is not an unheard of proposition that an oppressed—to use the term advised—an oppressed people should be restive.

"The true questions which have concerned our relations with the Philippines from the moment of our taking them and which remain to-day utterly untouched for any good to the islands themselves, and the questions which will regulate their future—in other words the real basis on which the Philippine islands politically are: Philippine tariff, taxation and encouragement to their shipping interests. This matter regulated to the advantage of these islands, Philippine independence will appear on the immediate horizon. Continue as we are doing to oppress these people and one of the most vexed questions that this nation has ever been called upon to deal with will confront us interminably.

"But aside from the duties we owe the Filipine to aid them in preparation for the enjoyment of the blessed privileges we possess, we should guard carefully against the danger to ourselves of an imperialistic policy. History teaches that from Republicanism to imperialism the movement is gradual, and unperceived of the people. Its ominous progress when disclosed leaves open but two courses, submission or resort to violence.

"That our people may never be compelled to choose between these fearful alternatives should be our prayer. But we should work as well as pray. And our work should be to guard the foundation on which our government rests. Its basis is that of declared ideas—ideas that are stronger than battleships and armies—ideas which for more than a century have stimulated our development and which have given promise that our 'world mission' shall be not to seize the territory of distant peoples, and rule them with a sceptre of iron, but to establish truth and honor, justice and peace among the nations.

"We must choose whether within our borders the basis of government shall continue to be this idealism, or a materialism, which is the sure precursor of dissolution, for no nation can endure upon a basis of materialism, however splendid. Prudence requires that choice be made in time. The time is now."

BRYAN IN INDIANA.

Discussed the Determination of the Present Administration to Force the Race Question Upon the People.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SEYMOUR, IND., Oct. 15.—William J. Bryan delivered the eleventh speech of the fourth day of his tour of Indiana before a large crowd in this city to-night. In nearly every one of his speeches to-day Mr. Bryan took occasion to remark that he did not consider either the National Democratic platform nor the candidate ideal, but that they were sufficiently superior to the opposition to call forth his ardent support.

At Rushville he dwelt with particular emphasis upon what he termed the determination of the present administration to forcethe race question upon the people. "You may never hear of the president appointing a colored postmaster in the North," he said, "but in the South, where the elevation of the black man above his white brother is particularly distasteful, there is where the colored appointments are made."

"Isn't it strange, my friends, that the Republican party that came into being through its advocacy of the declaration of freedom in our constitution, and that declared that no black man should be sold, is now the party that has crossed 7,000 miles of sea to rob a brown race of its liberty and that has purchased the people for something like $3.50 head."

TORPEDO BOATS

Built at Newport News and Supposed to be Destined for the Far East.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., Oct. 15.—Two of the Lake submarine boats built at the ship yard here, and believed to be destined for the Japanese or Russian navy, were hoisted on board the barge Kennebec to day. According to the foreman in charge of the 200 men engaged in loading the craft, the Kennebec will sail for Boston before daylight.

The Kennebec is the vessel which arrived here several months ago after being twice wrecked on her voyage from San Francisco. The captain and crew left her, declaring that the vessel was hoodooed. The impression spread, and it was found impossible to get a crew to sail the Kennebec, which was at that time a barque. Her owners becoming discouraged and disgusted, sold her for a mere song. The new owners converted the vessel into a coal barge.

It is stated on apparently good authority late to-night that the Kennebec will be met up the coast by a steamship now lying far out at sea and the big floating derrick, The Ox, from New York. The Ox will lift the sub-marines from the deck of the Kennebec and transfer them to the waiting steamer, which will proceed with the torpedo boats early in the morning to their destination.

Fifteen persons were injured, two of them perhaps fatally, in a collision yesterday between the eastbound California limited passenger train No. 6 and a west bound freight train on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, a mile and a half west of Portland, Col.,

GEN. KUROPATKIN'S ARMY IN RETREAT.

Field Marshal Oyama's Triumphant Troops Are Vigorously Pressing Pursuit.

RUSSIAN LOSS IS OVER 30,000.

Kuropatkin Fighting Doggedly to Prevent Utter Rout of His Army—They Left Two Thousand Dead on Field Friday—Fight Continues.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

TOKIO, Oct. 15, 8 P. M.—As a result of the bloody battle of October 14th, the Russians left two thousand dead on the field which they lost. Field Marshal Oyama estimates the Russian losses at over thirty thousand.

The fighting continued all along the entire line to-day and the end is not near. It seems to be impossible for the Russians to rally, and they probably will be pressed back across the Hun river.

General Kuropatkin's southern advance has been beaten back and his army is in retreat. He is, however, fighting doggedly, so as to spare the Russian army from an utter rout.

Field Marshal Oyama's triumphant troops have driven the Russian north to a line along the Sakhe river. They are vigorously pressing the pursuit and probably will inflict further severe damage on Kuropatkin's forces.

Bloody Episodes.

MUKDEN, Oct. 15.—One of the bloodiest episodes of the desperate fighting between the Shakhe river and Yental during the last three days occurred at the village of Endoilula, west of the railroad and in the neighboring heights east of the railroad. The Japanese had been driven out of those positions with terrible losses, but October 13th they concentrated such a murderous artillery fire on the village that it became necessary for the Russians to withdraw, the railroad however being held. The same evening the Russian commander gave imperative orders to re-occupy Endoilula. The Zaralsk regiment, without firing a single shot, marched under cover of the darkness and bayonetted several battalions of the Japanese, many of whom died as they slept. A few Japanese escaped and sought shelter in stacks of Chinese corn, but the Russians carried away by the frenzy of revenge, rushed upon the survivors and literally tore up their bodies with bayonets. The Russians then rolled themselves in the Japanese blankets. The next morning the Japanese again shelled out the regiment, while their artillery came on at a run and secured a position east of the railroad. Again General Kuropatkin ordered the Russians to retake the position, but the efforts of his troops were in vain. The Russians could not reach the Japanese trenches, so withering was the Japanese fire, and only a few returned where companies had charged. The companies in some cases were commanded by sergeants after all the officers had fallen. One officer, his face streaming with blood, limped up to a general, who was furious. "Where is your company?" asked the general. "This is all that is left of it," replied the officer. "It was like a slaughter house."

The artillery fight Wednesday was the fiercest of the war. The Japanese handled their guns superbly and chose splendid positions. Their guns seemed to have every range measured. They would concentrate the fire of two hundred guns first on one place and then on another. Some of the Russian regiments were literally shot to pieces. The bombardment reached a climax at 5 o'clock in the afternoon when the Japanese tried to envelope and break through the Russian left wing.

Fighting Continues.

TOKIO, Oct. 15.—Noon.—Heavy fighting continued yesterday. The reports from the field last night indicate that all three Japanese armies made distinct gains. General Oku captured ten guns, making his record for the battle 35. The fighting in the vicinity of Bensihu continues. The report does not mention the situation affecting the isolatad Russian column.

TOKIO, Oct. 16, 9 A. M.—The latest advices are that the Russians left 4,500 dead in front of Gen. Kuroki's army alone. The Russian losses there are estimated at 20,000 men.

Latest Reports.

ST. PETERSBERG, Oct. 16, 2 A. M.—The latest report from the front shows the fighting at Shakhe was renewed with unabated vigor. The Russians are holding their position at Shakhe and apparently neither they nor the Japanese are able to advance. All accounts agree that the battle of Liao Yang is already overshadowed in fierceness and the number of casualties. It is now the sixth day of desperate fighting and the issue is still in the balance.

The feeling in St. Petersburg is one of extreme gloom and depression. The lack of official news, the undoubted checking of General Kuropatkin's aggressive move, and the enormous Russian losses in men and guns, compared with the optimistic reports from Tokio, all combine to prepare the public for anything short of a total rout of the Russians. Nevertheless, the reports of the newspaper correspondents at the front, while admitting the heavy losses of the Russian troops and their retreat beyond the Shakhe river describe the soldiers as fighting with undiminished ardor. One dispatch even hints at extremely encouraging news from the eastern flank, but counsels patience and official confirmation before accepting it as true.

West Point was defeated at football by Harvard. The score was four to nothing. About the middle of the first half Captain Graves of West Point made the discovery that some of Harvard's men were wearing aluminum armor over their shins, contrary to the rules, and after an examination three of the Crimsons' were excused until they divested themselves of the armor.

Al. G. Field, the well known minstrel, corroborated last night a report that he is about to close a deal for the entire Forepaugh and Sells shows. The name of the show will remain unchanged. The contract reads that delivery is to be made at Winter quarters in Columbus, O., November 28.

TRAGEDY AT CLARKTON.

A Young Negro Accidentally Shot and Killed by a White Youth.

A deplorable accident occurred Friday night at the logging camp of the Cape Fear Lumber Company, known as "Cape Fear Camp," about 6 miles from Clarkton, Bladen county. While carelessly handling a pistol, Hector Clark, a youth 16 years old, son of Mr. John Clark, who conducts a hotel at Clarkton, accidentally shot and killed John Willis, a negro about 18 years of age. The ball struck Willis in the forehead, and, without gaining consciousness, he died yesterday morning.

Young Mr. Clark belongs to a prominent family and is a nephew of Mr. O. L. Clark, the well known Clarkton merchant. The home of the negro who was killed was at Maxton. It is said that he was a well behaved boy and was well liked by the men at the camp and especially by young Mr. Clark. The body was sent to Maxton for burial.

Mr. Clark was at his home in Clarkton yesterday, but it is understood that he will surrender to the sheriff of Columbus county, as the logging camp is in that county. No blame attaches to him, however, as all the parties were friendly and the witnesses state that the shooting was purely accidental.

Capt. Holltum Raised a Racket

Yesterday morning Captain Charles H. Holltum, the popular master of the British steamship Toloss, sailed for Liverpool with a cargo of 10,000 bales of cotton. As the steamer went down stream with her colors flying steam whistles screeched good-bye to the popular captain, and he returned the adieu with the coarse-voiced whistles of his ship and fired salutes with his big gun from the deck. He expects to greet his friends again in December as he will return for another cargo.
